AUTHOR AND KWIC INDEXES
VOLUME 15, 1990

Both the author and the Key-Word-In-Context (KWIC) indexes list the volume number and the first page for each citation. In the author index, authors of every article are listed. In the KWIC index, each significant work of every title is listed alphabetically, within the context of its title. (Each listing includes a portion of the title just preceding and just following the key word.) For example, to conduct a search for all citations on 'cortisol', one also should look under the alternate terms 'adrenocortical' and 'corticosteroids' to be certain all pertinent information is retrieved.

CURRENT ADVANCES IN NEUROSCIENCE

Chief Editor: H SMITH, University of Leicester, UK,
Editorial Office: CABS Office, 132 New Walk, Leicester LE1 7QQ, UK

Current Advances in Neuroscience is a monthly publication from the Current Awareness in Biological Sciences (CABS), Database, designed to provide biologists working in any area of the subject with a current literature searching service which is fast, comprehensive, economical and, above all, easy to use. By retrieving more than 30,000 neuroscience titles annually, Current Advances in Neuroscience enables pure and applied neuroscientists to keep abreast of the ever-increasing literature being published in their subject area.
More than 1,200 biological journals covering all aspects of neuroscience are scanned to provide a subject-categorized listing of titles, authors, bibliographic details and authors' addresses. Titles are presented under appropriate subject headings with full cross-referencing.
Reprints of any article cited in this journal can be ordered through a document delivery service. Full details are available on request.

Major Subject Areas Covered Include:
Neurochemistry; Molecular biology and neurogenetics; Developmental neuroscience; Transplantation and regeneration; Nerve and glial cell biology; Nerve structure and function; Peripheral nervous system: physiology and pharmacology; Central nervous system: physiology and pharmacology; Blood brain barrier; Cerebral spinal fluid; Neurotransmitters and synaptic transmission; Ion channels; Integrative neurophysiology; Sensory systems: physiology and pharmacology; Behavioral pharmacology; Psychoneuroimmunology; Neurotoxins and toxins used as research tools; Invertebrate neurophysiology; Neuropathology; Neural networks; Techniques.

THE OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY FOR DEVELOPMENTAL NEUROSCIENCE

Editor-in-Chief: J REGINO PEREZ-POLO, Department of Human Biological Chemistry and Genetics, Gail Borden Bldg, Room 436 (F52), UTMB, Galveston, TX 77550, USA

Under the distinguished editor-in-chief, J Regino Perez-Polo, International Journal of Developmental Neuroscience (IJDN) has gained a reputation for publishing original, peer-reviewed papers on many aspects of the scientific study of the nervous system. The journal offers authoritative, timely research on both basic and clinical aspects of the developing nervous system, ranging from simpler nervous systems in invertebrates and in vitro growth of neural cells to regenerative processes under experimental and clinical conditions. IJDN also welcomes papers on the molecular and cell biology of the aging nervous system. The international Editorial Board, appointed by the Editor-in-Chief in consultation with the Publications Committee for the International Society for Developmental Neuroscience, consists of well-known specialists in all major branches of neuroscience. International Journal of Developmental Neuroscience strives to facilitate the transfer of basic information to clinical applications and to promote an understanding of the fundamental mechanisms of neural growth, repair and development.

The journal offers authoritative, timely research on both basic and clinical aspects of the developing nervous system, ranging from simpler nervous systems in invertebrates and in vitro growth of neural cells to regenerative processes under experimental and clinical conditions. IJDN also welcomes papers on the molecular and cell biology of the aging nervous system. The international Editorial Board, appointed by the Editor-in-Chief in consultation with the Publications Committee for the International Society for Developmental Neuroscience, consists of well-known specialists in all major branches of neuroscience. International Journal of Developmental Neuroscience strives to facilitate the transfer of basic information to clinical applications and to promote an understanding of the fundamental mechanisms of neural growth, repair and development.
